Forward-Looking Statements

This Current Report on Form 8-K and the exhibit attached hereto contain forward-looking statements that are subject to the safe harbors created under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”). These statements are based on current expectations, estimates, forecasts and projections about the industries in which ViaSat, Inc. (“ViaSat”) operates and the beliefs and assumptions of ViaSat’s management. ViaSat uses words such as “anticipate,” “believe,” “continue,” “could,” “estimate,” “expect,” “goal,” “intend,” “may,” “plan,” “project,” “seek,” “should,” “target,” “will,” “would,” variations of such words and similar expressions to identify forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements include, among others, statements that refer to: estimates, expectations and beliefs regarding ViaSat’s second quarter results; the previously announced acquisition of WildBlue Holding, Inc. (“WildBlue”) and the timing of expenses associated therewith; and ViaSat’s private placement of the Notes (as defined below) and the application of net proceeds therefrom. Readers are cautioned that actual results could differ materially from those expressed in any forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause actual results to differ include: no independent public accounting firm has compiled, examined or performed any procedures with respect to the estimated financial information contained herein, nor have they expressed any opinion or other form of assurance on such information or its achievability; changes in estimated amounts based on the final accounting of ViaSat’s second quarter results; the assumptions and estimates underlying the estimated financial information contained herein are inherently uncertain and are subject to a wide variety of significant business, economic and competitive risks and uncertainties; the ability of ViaSat to consummate the previously announced acquisition of WildBlue; the ability of ViaSat to complete the private placement of the Notes; the ability to have manufactured or successfully launch ViaSat’s new high-capacity Ka-band spot-beam satellite, ViaSat-1, or implement the related broadband satellite services; continued turmoil in global financial markets and economies; the availability and cost of credit; reliance on U.S. government contracts and on a small number of contracts which account for a significant percentage of ViaSat’s revenues; the ability to successfully develop, introduce and sell new technologies, products and enhancements; reduced demand for products as a result of continued constraints on capital spending by customers; changes in relationships with, or the financial condition of, key customers or suppliers; reliance on a limited number of third parties to manufacture and supply products; increased competition and other factors affecting the communications and networking industries generally; and the effect of adverse regulatory changes on our ability to sell products. In addition, please refer to the risk factors contained in ViaSat’s Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) filings available at www.sec.gov, including ViaSat’s most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q. Therefore, actual results may differ materially and adversely from those expressed in any forward-looking statements. ViaSat undertakes no obligation to revise or update any forward-looking statements for any reason.

Item 7.01. Regulation FD Disclosure.

On October 13, 2009, ViaSat issued a press release pursuant to Rule 135c under the Securities Act regarding the proposed issuance of $250 million in aggregate principal amount of senior unsecured notes due 2016 (the “Notes”) through a private placement to qualified institutional buyers in the United States pursuant to Rule 144A under the Securities Act and outside the United States pursuant to Regulation S under the Securities Act.

In connection with the offering of the Notes, ViaSat disclosed certain information to prospective investors, including financial information relating to ViaSat’s preliminary results of operations for the second quarter of fiscal year 2010 and financial information relating to WildBlue.

Second quarter outlook

ViaSat anticipates that its new contract awards for the second quarter of fiscal year 2010 will be approximately $220 million to $225 million, which would be its second largest quarter for new contract awards. ViaSat expects revenues will be approximately $158 million to $162 million, compared to $159.3 million for the second quarter of fiscal year 2009. Income from operations for the second quarter of fiscal year 2010 is anticipated to be approximately $11.5 million to $12.5 million, compared to $9.3 million for the prior year period. Included in income from operations for ViaSat's second quarter of fiscal year 2010 are approximately $2.5 million in expenses incurred in connection with ViaSat's previously announced acquisition of WildBlue. ViaSat expects to incur additional acquisition-related expenses in the third and fourth quarters of fiscal year 2010, the amount of which will vary depending on the timing of regulatory clearance, among other things.

WildBlue summary historical financial data

The following tables set forth WildBlue's summary historical consolidated financial data as of December 31, 2007 and 2008, for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2007 and 2008, for the twelve months ended June 30, 2009, as of June 30, 2009 and for the six-month periods ended June 30, 2008 and 2009. The summary information for the twelve months ended June 30, 2009 has been derived by adding the consolidated financial data for the year ended December 31, 2008 and the six-month period ended June 30, 2009 and subtracting the consolidated financial data for the six-month period ended June 30, 2008. The following financial information reflects the consolidated financial information of WildBlue provided to ViaSat by WildBlue management, and is not indicative of the performance of the WildBlue business following the consummation of the previously announced acquisition of WildBlue. ViaSat has had no involvement in the preparation of WildBlue's financial information, and ViaSat cannot assure you that they fairly present the financial condition, results of operations or cash flows of WildBlue or that they have been correctly prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("GAAP"). In addition, the results presented below are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for any future period, and the results for any interim period are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for a full year.

- (1) As the financial information results in a net loss, the weighted-average number of shares used for basic and diluted earnings per share is the same, as diluted shares would be anti-dilutive.
- (2) EBITDA represents net income before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization. Adjusted EBITDA represents EBITDA adjusted to exclude the effects of non-cash stock-based compensation expense, losses recorded related to an interest rate swap agreement with respect to WildBlue's existing credit facilities and loss on extinguishment of debt relating to certain debt restructuring and a 2008 recapitalization transaction. We believe that the presentation of EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA provides useful information to investors with which to analyze operating trends and performance and ability to service and incur debt. Further, we believe EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA facilitate company-to-company operating performance comparisons by backing out potential differences caused by variations in capital structures (affecting net interest expense), taxation and the age and book depreciation of property, plant and equipment (affecting relative depreciation expense), which may vary for different companies for reasons unrelated to operating performance. In addition, we believe that EBITDA is frequently used by securities analysts, investors and other interested parties in their evaluation of companies, many of which present an EBITDA measure when reporting their results.

EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA are not measurements of financial performance under GAAP and should not be considered as an alternative to net income as a measure of performance or to net cash flows provided by (used in) operations as a measure of liquidity. In addition, other companies may define EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA differently and, as a result, these measures of EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA may not directly comparable to EBITDA or adjusted EBITDA of other companies. Furthermore, EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA each has limitations as an analytical tool, and you should not consider them in isolation, or as a substitute for analysis of WildBlue's results as reported under GAAP. Some of these limitations are:

- EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA do not reflect cash expenditures, or future requirements, for capital expenditures or contractual commitments,
- EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA do not reflect changes in, or cash requirements for, working capital needs,
- EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA do not reflect the significant interest expense, or the cash requirements necessary to service interest or principal payments, on debt, and
- Although depreciation and amortization are non-cash charges, the assets being depreciated and amortized will often have to be replaced in the future, and EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA do not reflect any cash requirements for such replacements.

Because of these limitations, EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA should not be considered as a measure of discretionary cash available to invest in the business, and should be used only supplementally. You are cautioned not to place undue reliance on EBITDA or adjusted EBITDA.

The following table reconciles WildBlue EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA to WildBlue net income (loss), which we consider to be the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure to EBITDA and adjusted EBITDA:
